

We respect the contributions made by the volunteers and well-wishers to the operation of ATBC. Attached herewith are the key points covered in ATBC's Code of Conduct Manual.

1. Code of Conduct for Broadcasters

1.1. General

1. You must give respect for individuals, fellow broadcasters and other radio stations
2. No comments, criticism and attack can be aired against individuals, organizations or other broadcasters at any time.

In the event of any personnel attack or comments aired by the Broadcaster he/she will be liable for any consequences. This may include defamation and liability.

3. There shall not be any advertisements or announcements aired without the authorization of the Station Manager
4. If you notice any equipment which is faulty or not in working order please note it on the maintenance log book and notify the Station Manager.
5. Any breaches to the Code of Conduct will require review by the Station Manager and /or Executive Advisory Committee.

2. Updates to this document

This document will be updated time to time to reflect the needs and requirements. Updated document will over ride this document and a copy of the updated document will be displayed at ATBC's Notice board.
